Here are five potential outcomes from the dashboard image provided:

- Market Size & Adoption Overview: The dataset encompasses 100,000 electric vehicle records globally, providing a multi-dimensional perspective across 37 technical and financial performance metrics.
- Leading Manufacturers & Segments: Top manufacturers lead in overall unit sales, with SUVs and Sedans accounting for the highest sales volume globally due to balanced range and consumer utility.
- Range vs. Battery Capacity: Real-world range strongly correlates with battery capacity (kWh), with average driving ranges spanning from 150 km for City Cars to over 650 km for Premium Luxury EVs.
- Charging Dynamics & Downtime: Fast DC charging times drop substantially in modern EV models (under 25 mins average for high-capacity packs), minimizing charging anxiety.
- Financial & Environmental Return: Average 3-year resale values remain robust above 55%, while collective EV usage yields millions of tons in CO2 savings annually compared to ICE vehicles.
